

Focus on your Mission and We'll Handle the Rest

“What’s something you wish you could get off your desk?”

We know that nonprofits are overextended, under-resourced, and faced with an endless number of growing projects on their plate. That’s where Catchafire comes in. Catchafire is an online platform for virtual, skills-based volunteering. We connect you with highly-skilled volunteer professionals ready to lend their expertise and provide critical capacity support on projects related to marketing, IT, finance, design, fundraising, human resources, strategic planning, and more.

It’s easy - within five minutes, you can post a project and get connected to a global network of professionals looking to use their skill sets to directly support causes they care about. You’ll also have unlimited access to nonprofit experts, with coaching and professional development opportunities to help you along the way. Working with volunteers isn’t just a one-off engagement; over half of volunteers stay involved beyond the first project to join the organization as repeat volunteers, donors, or Board members.

We’re a program for your entire nonprofit. Once you register your organization, you can add colleagues to the account so that they can post and manage their own projects.

“Catchafire is the new Sears catalog...I got really excited and started creating the things that I wanted, because Catchafire was the answer to my wish list. It also gave me the opportunity to wish for things that I know I would not be able to afford to have. Thanks to Catchafire, I'm able to do so much. The thing I got excited about was no limit on projects.”

Lisa Woolfork, Founder
